

JOHN WILLIAM KARLSON
WINTERROSE AND
EFFUREZINA WILHELMINA
ZITTING WINTERROSE

John William Karlson Winterrose was born March 21, 1859, at Atland, Sweden. His father was Sven Gustaf Karlson, and his mother was Kaisalisa Svenson. At the age of eight his father died and he started working. Later he became an apprentice to a cabinet maker. At the age of 21 he joined the military service for two years and upon being discharged changed his name from Karlson to Winterrose. He worked as foreman in a cabinet making shop until 1885, when he came to America. He came to Brooklyn, New York, to his sister Hannah. She wanted him to stay there, because she said if he came to Utah he would never get away from the Mormons. He came to Utah and lived with his sister, Josephine Halbum, at Heber and started in the carpenter work. The first thing he built was William Harvey's barn in Center Creek. He attended school a short time to learn the language at the New West School.

Effurezina Wilhelmina Zitting was born January 20, 1869, at Farr West, Weber County, Utah. Her father was Carl August Zitting and her mother was Sophia Wilhelmina Ervolder. She came to Heber as a professional dressmaker, and her dress shop was located in the Duncan Hotel. She met Mr. Winterrose at Heber and was married April 19, 1888. They had five children, Rose Ellen, John Gustave, Hildur Sophia Wilhelmina, Reuben Emanuel and Cecilia. Cecilia died when three weeks old.

In 1892, Mr. Winterrose went on a mission to his native land, Sweden, and Mrs. Winterrose supported her two children and helped her husband by her profession of dressmaking. In 1906, Mr. Winterrose quit the carpenter business and went in the undertaking business. His wife had a milinery shop. Mrs. Winterrose sold her shop in 1919, and Mr. Winterrose retired from the mortuary business in 1931, due to ill health.

had to stay with her in the hold of the ship throughout the voyage, but she survived. Later a baby died in Pennsylvania, where the family stopped to work in the mines before proceeding to Utah. While in Pennsylvania their oldest son, Thomas, was killed by a coal car. After several years they arrived in Utah and settled in Heber.

Janet was a kind, unselfish person and shared whatever she had. She had carefully preserved a bolt of sheeting in the family's journey across the plains, but when she arrived in Heber and found many of the people hard-pressed for clothing, she gave most of it away.

She had a life of sorrow, as two more sons died after the family arrived in Heber. Her daughter Margaret and her husband, Joseph Thomas, then died of pneumonia, leaving their nine children to be cared for. Shortly thereafter her husband died. Through all her trials she maintained a cheerful attitude and never became bitter.
